

Subject Line: apparently you CAN have too many webinar registrants

Ok hand up 🙋 I have a tendency to get slightly carried away with these webinar emails.

But it's late, so I'll keep this one simple and just stick to the key bullet points:

- We have a webinar this Tuesday, April 9th @2pm ET.
- Our VP of Content and Community, Mark Kilens, and Impulse Creative's Remington Begg are handing out 3 secrets to creating a first class buying experience for your prospects
- Mark will be giving all registrants a full breakdown of his new Conversational Framework

Our webinar software has a registration max (not sure why...seems counterproductive) but I would grab your spot now if you want to get the content.

PS. Yes, I will send out the recording and slides to anyone who registers. So even if you can't make the live event, sign up anyways 🙋
